

Using Two Screens in MetaFarms

Using two screens when working in MetaFarms can be very beneficial. It allows you to copy and paste when entering Feed, add Sow data on the fly without losing the sheet you have already started, or just looking up information when you are in the middle of data entry.

There are requirements for using two screens to prevent the two from having data cross and cause errors. In no browser can you open another tab or click on the icon again to open another page.

For Internet Explorer users: You will need to open a new session of IE by going to File, New Session.

Chrome and Firefox do not have the option of a New Session. We recommend using a browser session of your choice, and then using a session of a different browser as your second screen. For example if you are a Chrome user, have your second screen be Internet Explorer or Firefox.
